

Holidays: video B

A relaxing evening together for friends whilst on holiday in the mountains.
Myriam Lathuille and Aurélie Vuillet often go on holiday together.

Nat: "Where did you go for your nicest holiday?"

Myriam: "Well, for my nicest holiday, I think it was Corsica.
I went to Corsica and it was very, very beautiful."

Nat: "And Aurélie?"

Aurélie: "The same. Corsica is really an... an amazing island er... with sea and mountains contrasting with one another... I think it really was my nicest holiday."

Nat: "Do you know Great Britain?"

Myriam: "Yes, we know Great Britain. Er... a few years ago, when I was twelve I went to Newcastle, next to the Scottish border."

Nat: "And you Aurélie, do you know Great Britain?"

Aurélie: "Yes, I know it. I went to London once for a study trip and I also did work experience for three weeks in Wales."

Nat: "So what did you like about Great Britain?"

Myriam: "In Great Britain, I liked the wide open spaces, because I was in the north of England. And the welcome given to me was also very nice. And then afterwards, it's true, what really er... Let's say the uniforms worn at school really caught my attention."

Nat: "Oh! Did you like that?"

Myriam: "It's very... There's something quite proper about it but also original."

Nat: "Charming?"

Myriam: "That as well... There's something charming about it!"

Nat: "And you, Aurélie?"

Aurélie: "Well for me, what I liked about London was the actual city itself, the architecture... All of that. And then, in Wales, the atmosphere of the pubs and the... It was nice."

Nat: "And between you and me, English food, did you like it?"

Myriam: "English food er... I'll admit that it's not so great. I prefer French cooking."

Nat: "And you Aurélie?"

Aurélie: "It's disgusting!"