Learning hint When Germans give their telephone numbers, they say them in pairs; where we would say 297654 (two-nine-seven-six-five-four), they say 29-76-54 (neunundzwanzig-sechsundsiebzig-vierundfünfzig). It can be difficult enough for us to split up our phone numbers this way in English, so practise saying your phone number the German way till it trips off the tongue. Note that Germans say the digits individually for the area code (01483 would be null-eins-vier-acht-drei) and if there is an odd number of figures in the local number, isolate the first digit, then put the rest in pairs.
