They have all gone on to further success in their music careers. Many other finalists and semi-finalists have also benefited and are becoming well known on the folk scene.

How it Works

You can enter the BBC Radio 2 Young Folk Award 2008 by completing the attached application form and sending it in along with a recording of your performance.

If your entry is successful you will be invited to attend a Semi – Final Audition Weekend on 19 - 21 October 2007 in Stratford-upon-Avon along with up to 40 other musicians and singers. You will spend the weekend meeting other performers, attending workshops led by professional musicians and organisers and have time for socialising and sessions as well.

Accommodation and food are provided free of charge and a contribution will be made towards entrants' travel costs.

The workshop tutors are Robert Harbron and Benji Kirkpatrick

On Saturday evening there will be an Audition Concert open to the public featuring a short performance from each semi-finalist from which judges will choose acts to go through to the Final. The Final will be held on 7 December 2007 at Queen Elizabeth Hall, South Bank Centre, London. Highlights of the Final will be broadcast on BBC Radio 2's Mike Harding Show.

If you are thinking of entering The BBC Radio 2 Young Folk Award 2008 please let us know as soon as you can by emailing info@mrscasey.co.uk. This does not commit you to anything or count as a formal application it just helps us know roughly how many applications are expected.

How to Enter

1. All entrants should be UK residents aged between 15-20 years on 1 September 2007. Proof of age may be requested.
2. Employees of the BBC, Smooth Operations and Mrs Casey Music or their close relatives or anyone connected with the competition are not eligible to enter.
3. Solo performers, duos or groups can enter as long as they are all within the specified age range (in exceptional circumstances if one member of the group falls outside the age range this may be permitted).
4. Groups should consist of at least 3 performers and not more than 6.
5. All performers must sign the entry form.
6. An individual can make a maximum of 2 entries provided one entry is as part of a group and one entry is as a soloist or duo.
7. Entry forms must be accompanied by a recording lasting no longer than 8 minutes. CD, Cassette, Mini Disc (standard recording only) and DAT format are all acceptable. Recordings cannot be returned so be sure to keep a copy.
8. The line-up on the recording must be the same as the line-up which will attend later stages if invited and the recording must be a representation of a live performance.
9. The selection of entrants to perform at later stages may be subject to appropriate licenses and school permissions being obtained if applicable.
10. The live performance stages of the competition will be recorded for possible transmission on the BBC or online. Entrants will be deemed to have granted to the BBC in respect of their performances the irrevocable right and license to free reproduction and exhibition in all media (now known or hereafter created) throughout the world for the full period of copyright. The material chosen must therefore be suitable for broadcast on BBC Radio 2.
11. The right is reserved to cancel the competition at any stage or amend any of the terms or details of the Prize if necessary.
12. Entry forms and recordings must arrive by Friday 28th September 2007.
13. Entrants selected to take part in the next stage will be contacted by post or email as soon as possible after the closing date.
14. If a selected person is unable to be contacted on the email address or address supplied or unable to attend the next stage the right is reserved to substitute a runner up.
